

Transliteration of the annual message 2021 of Archangel Chamuel by Heike Lieselotte Schneider on Dec. 21, 2020

"Be blessed, you beloved children of light. We are the energy which you name Chamuel.

Beloved children in the light. Before we go into the 2021 annual message, we would like to talk a little about the current events of the time on the physical structure. First of all, the issues that affect you from the outside, or rather, the energies that affect you from the outside, are liable to cramp the body on all levels. Through this you create extreme suffering, because from the outside it is cramped, through lack of oxygen, but wants to be broken loose from the inside. You see the conflict that is going on in your bodies. Therefore, we would strongly recommend that you take advantage of the time ahead, to rest as much as possible and look within. The phases of the headache, the dizziness, all these levels, all these energies, all these structures, will still intensify a little bit, but ultimately it means that you will be brought more and more into readiness to receive these new energies. The body must also be in this readiness, not only the mind and the soul.

Beloved Children of Light. The annual message for 2021 may not be quite be so as many of you would like it to be. But we would like to say first of all: All is well. Everything is on track. Everything is going the way it is supposed to go. The speed at which you will or want to implement the process of ascension is, of course, up to each individual person. To this end, we will first go into more detail.

Beloved children, the next year is a year of 5. 5 also stands for high spirituality. The 3 is body-mind-soul, the life on the plane, plus 1 - the 4, the angelic energy, and now the 5th is added, means the connection of body-mind-soul, paired with the angels and the Divine energy in which it is sheltered. All the days that, in the cross sum, add up to 5, the days, the months, the year completely, however you will see it, you will find that this 5th energy not only opens the 5th dimension, but that this 5th energy is ultimately a great, comprehensive release of the old. The last year the angels have led, the next year GOD will lead himself.

Beloved children in the light. What does this mean in detail? Specifically, it means that all that has been in darkness until now is being brought to light. That is, it is the age of truth. The truth will come to light. The truth will be so frightening and so fearful for many people that they cannot really bear it. The truth that is revealed will show you that neither history is right as you have experienced it, nor will it show you that what is good was good, nor that what is bad was bad. Up is down, right is left, many things have been twisted. There has been a plan behind this that is far more comprehensive and greater than anything you can imagine. The darkness has been forced to leave. It is not gone yet. It is still going to fight. Every single form of darkness will fight. Even if the rulers of darkness no longer have the omnipotence, the power that they had in the past, but only to a small degree, they will still fight.

When will it be completely over, you will ask.

When the last person in this world is no longer afraid, no longer feels anger, rage, hatred, envy or resentment. The transition from the 3rd to the 5th dimension: the beginning has been made. You have already passed the point of no return. It can no longer be stopped. We also told you already that the earth will be liberated. This process is also irreversible. The point where it could have been reversed, where it could have been delayed, where the darkness could have done anything, has finally passed. What will happen when the Earth becomes free, when the shackles are thrown off, when the consciousness of Mother Gaia, the consciousness of the planet itself becomes free? It has already begun. There will be some shaking. There will be certain structures changing on the planet itself. Why is it happening?

Beloved children in the light. The darkness has corrupted many sacred places in the world and has occupied almost all sacred places. This means that these places have been partially sealed by new buildings. As a result, new sacred places will emerge. Different energy structures will change and the leylines will also become different. Not completely and not all at once, so you can still be relaxed. All that is controlled by darkness will gradually come to light. Those who want to see will see. Who wants to hear, will hear. And for many it will be a madness to understand to have been deceived for so long.

Beloved children in the light. Remember that you are never alone and remember that now comes the time to turn completely inward to get old things out of you. Through old hurts you will go once again, certain things will appear once again in your life, but parts that were also dedicated to darkness in you, for example, the self-enhancement through the most expensive clothes or the self-enhancement through more money, more power, more whatever, will shift. The postponed financial crash is already here. But again, redistribution will happen like you can't imagine right now.

The point is, each for himself, to acknowledge his own power and strength, to live it and really feel it within himself, the essence of what is. The Earth waking up will provide you with an energy that you have not known before. And beyond that, the Divine Power that will also be at work next year is the power that will ultimately ensure that you rise up, that you become more and more aware of who you are, aware of what you are: powerful creatures, endowed with the Divine Spark. Everything that is inanimate will successively disappear more and more from this planet. Everything that has been ultimately corrupted will not be able to hold on. Much will be cleaned up, but it does not mean that with a snap of the fingers everything will be completely new.

The next three months until the actual end of the year in March, it will still be a bit turbulent in the end. You will be tested again and again as to whether you will continue to allow yourselves to be enslaved by wearing the mark of the slaves, or whether you will begin to move more and more and faster into your power. The form of authority as you have known it until now will change completely, especially in the European area. That which has finally already begun overseas will also change over here. This means, however, that it should be looked at exactly who is still power-hungry and who actually wants to serve the community.

For you, because you will believe that you are a little crazy, in the truest sense of the word, because you are convinced that you cannot really determine what is good and what is evil, means that you may start to find out in your center, in your innermost being, in your very being, which is now getting bigger and bigger, what feels good and what does not feel good.

In the end, you were all fooled by appearances. The famous musicians, the great actors, the rich people, the elite, all that has been modeled for you, that has been shown to you, has ensured that you have been in a kind of dream state, stuck in a kind of matrix that has led you to dream after things, to try or experiment with things that are ultimately not worth living at all.

Things that are worth living for, community, love, family, connection, friendships, honor, virtue, decency, things that are ultimately necessary to keep a race alive. Much of that has been corrupted, not to say all of it. Tried to be pressed into other forms or made new. Old values are no longer important. New values had been more important to you. The newest cell phone, the newest clothes, the newest thing that upgrades you on the outside, because inside you could no longer feel the valuation of your own being, could no longer feel your own value.

This will be broken, this will be changed. You will find out that things are more essential to feel, to experience with all your senses, than to be entertained from the outside, so to speak. You will break out for the simple reason that, on the one hand, the power and the strength of Mother Earth will permeate you, the femininity, the energy of motherhood, the power of a mother who would do anything for her children, the mother lion who fights.

This is also, of course, very turbulent for the planet itself. This means that it will rumble in many places, and that various things will happen, that the excess pressure will have to go out, as has already happened, that possibly one or the other volcano will make itself felt a little bit, but it is not about the destruction of the planet, it is only about the energy having to free itself and will free itself. As mentioned, beyond that, it is that the Divine Energy, the Divine Energy of the Omnipotence of Love, will raise you up. You will get such a strong energy, so to speak, next year from both sides that you will change.

Inside, in what has meaning for you, what has endured or will endure for you. What you call elites will not be able to hold on sooner or later. Justice will prevail. It is a matter of time. The reconstruction that is coming depends on many things.

The more you focus on what you want to have and stop focusing on what you don't want to have, the faster and easier it will happen. But not all people are awake yet, or not enough people are awake to call this change into being focused through all beings.

Beloved children. First of all, the truth has to come. And we would like to explicitly point out to you again that it is not useful to use rituals. That it is not useful to use any symbols. Make yourselves free. Go the direct way. Many of these symbols are being corrupted. Many of these rituals are corrupted. Why do you need rituals and any symbols to express something that you can already send into the world with one breath, that is, through love.

Beloved children, there is nothing wrong with a sacred ceremony, such as when you decide to consider the act of lighting a candle as sacred. If you do this with love, humility and mindfulness in your heart, you will feel that this candle can bring a light into the world in a way you cannot imagine. Put a candle against a wall and light it from the other side, and you will find that the candle casts a shadow, the light never does. What the elite wanted from you was not money. Money the elite had more than enough. What it was about, or what it will still be about in phases, is your energy. And that energy can only be harvested if you remain entrenched in fear, anxiety, hatred, envy, resentment, lack, or any form of evaluation or judgment. If you free yourself from all these energies by focusing on the Golden Age, because the Golden Age is already beginning, only how will you create it? Only how are you going to shape it? Is it really important to have the biggest car? Is it really important to have the most beautiful, the best, the most expensive or whatever? Or will you set yourselves free, will you set yourselves free to discover the beauties in the planet itself - the beauty in each other's eyes, the love and respect for each other. And will you be able to recognize yourselves, to feel yourselves, to perceive yourselves for what you really are: ensouled beings whose Divine Spark is now beginning to shine properly and strongly. This light is what you want to bring into the Golden Age, but this means that old structures, the "good old" as it was, will no longer exist. Something completely new will be built, something completely new has to be built.

Are you willing to do things for the sake of the community? Are you ready to contribute your entire being to the transformation of this world? It is no longer the time to say that others will take care. It is up to each one of you. Every single one of you is being brought more and more to heed the call of your heart, of your soul. Every single one is needed to manifest paradise on earth. Once again the hint: The dimension jump is for everyone in his or her speed. Many souls, of course, will not want to come along or will remain stuck on the 3rd dimension in another timeline or will leave altogether.

Beloved children in the light. The darkness can exist at most until the lowest levels of the 4th dimension. That is, when you free yourselves, you will no longer be controllable. When you go beyond the 4th dimension, maybe the 4th dimension or the dark energies on the lower levels of the 4th dimension will still be visible, but they will no longer have power over you. That means you will perceive them, they may still cause you the one or another pain or, but eventually you will have outgrown them and you will know that as light you will always outlast the darkness. Because still the smallest flame can pierce the greatest darkness. Light can exist out of itself. Darkness only through corrupted light.

Beloved children. It is for you now to recognize your own corners of darkness within you. Where it was more important for you to stand better, to stand different, to be bigger, to pretend to be more. More beautiful, better, further, smarter, or whatever. The point is to learn humility now. Learning humility means recognizing the greatness of divinity, but also recognizing that the spark of that divinity is within yourself. However, to do so without delusions of grandeur, but only to acknowledge that it is so and to be grateful for it. The change of the Golden Age.

Truly, we tell you, you will be able to create a paradise on earth. But this also means that this upheaval will take some time, this rebuilding can and will simply take place. Maybe for some it will be faster than for others, but at this time it is unstoppable. You have made this leap. And this is something that the whole universe takes note of and sees with joy.

Even though a little will still be the struggle until spring, you will find that one or another turbulence was no longer a real turbulence at all, but like everything, the spectacle.

Beloved children, we talked last month about self-empowerment. About taking your own responsibility for life. This is still the theme. You are being told how to live. You are being told how to think. You are being told how to feel. You are being told how to be. But now it is a case of the children who become free, who free themselves from their parents, who free themselves from the nest of supposed protection, which was more of a prison and a slave factory.

It means questioning one thing or another about what you have always believed about yourselves, about government, about being, about the planet itself. It means questioning yourself and it means trusting yourself enough and knowing yourself enough to determine what feels true to you and what feels fake and wrong to you. No longer just accepting. To let go of guilt, as guilt is also nothing more than an ego structure. To leave these ego structures behind you. Each of you must be able to look yourselves in the eye full of love, to know that you are always doing the best and doing the best for humanity. To know that you are not just running around hurting or exploiting others.

Those basic needs of humanity, which is to be good, to just live again, to not try to bamboozle one or the other. But most of you have long since shed this and are mostly free of it. It is ultimately a matter for you, this power and this strength, the ideal that you always wanted to live in you, the honor, the courage, decency, the motherly love, the truth, the clarity, the faith, the humanity, that can now begin to be lived. For many times, or even now in phases, it was considered very unpopular to pray or to believe in God. Free yourselves from any people who want to tell you something. Find that power and that strength within you. You, directly with the Creator, with the Omnipotence. This is the way and this is the liberation of the whole planet.

Beloved children in the light. Truly, wondrous, wonderful, fantastic times are coming your way.

The Golden Age begins now. Today is the day when the Golden Age will finally be ushered in, and nothing, no one, can stop it. Do you feel the joy, the power within you? Do you feel the inner restlessness that something wonderful is going to happen or is already about to happen? Do you feel the power coming from your soul? Do you feel the power that dwells within you? Do you feel that you are awakening, that you are beginning to create? That you are beginning to create, that you are beginning to be? And that you are beginning to love, unconditionally, without limitations. And that you connect with the creative omnipotence, the source of love, with the origin of all being stronger than ever before and start to use this power?

You will realize what gigantic beings you are. You will find out what power actually rests within you. You will find that ancient knowledge was only covered or hidden, and you will find that this knowledge rests within you and will be lived from now on, for each and every one of you, free from anyone telling you how, where, when and why. Free, simply by feeling the essence in your being. Free, simply by the fact that the soul wants to express itself as love, on all levels. Free to be and protect the weakest. To be free and powerful to stand up for what is good.

You will break out of the eggshell. You will stop hiding for fear of reprisals because you will realize how powerful you are. And this power that is within you will be shown on the outside. When you accept that you are free as a human being, ensouled by the Divine Spark, powerful, all it takes is your "No." Your "no" to the darkness that may still dwell in some corners of you, a "no" to other people determining or disposing of you, a "no" to being bullied or told what to think or see or smell or feel. But it means to make yourself free on all levels, in all areas of being. It means to take back your own power and never to abuse it to harm others. This means being human. This means to be inspired. This means to be free and this means to accomplish the Divine Work. We know that you will succeed in this. We know that you are many. We know that more are coming every day. And we know that you are never alone.

Beloved children in the light. The next year will begin an adventure that your souls have been waiting for for many years, depending on your age. The adventure of life begins now.

Beloved children in the light. You are truly blessed. You are truly supported and protected. And you are infinitely loved. Always remember, we are by your side. The Divine Omnipotence has appointed us to support you. And we do this if you invite us into your life. And GOD will shine next year His light over the world to bring the knowledge in all levels and all dimensions.

Be blessed in the light of the Divine Omnipotence, now and always, and so be it."

(Archangel Chamuel)
