

Transliteration of the Channeling "Pray" of Archangel Chamuel by Heike Lieselotte Schneider on August 29, 2021

" Blessings to you, beloved children of light. We are the energy which you name Chamuel. Beloved Children of Light. Before we go to our actual topic, which today will be about "praying", we would like to talk a little bit about the current events. You are still in great, strong transformations.

The importance of this time is to go within, to reflect and to give your body the possibility to live through these transformation processes as strongly as possible or as easily as possible. For you now, as the darkness will once again offer everything, it is about being in your power, in your strength, in your connection. The main thing is to supply your body with enough energy. Always remember: where you keep focusing your attention, that's what you strengthen. This means that you should try to focus your attention completely on your body once a day. For example, start with the foot, with the left foot, then the right foot, direct your attention into the body in order to transform as much as possible the energy structures that also come at you from outside and also the harmful attacks that are partly caused by toxins. As before, the transformation processes have remained broadly the same, the whole body is currently in transformation. However, you should pay special attention to the kidneys, because the relationship issue is currently stronger and more massive than before.

Beloved children in the light. The world is supposedly getting a little darker every day to ultimately move humanity to be the light. Sometimes it is so that everything has to be broken a little bit on the outside to realize what power and what strength lives in each one of you.

Today we would like to point out to you the power and the strength of prayer. We are not talking about individual religions, because religions have been made by human hands or at least have been corrupted by human hands. Every single human being, every single animate being has the power and the strength of direct communication. This is what you call prayer.

We would like to explicitly point out here that we do not want to be worshipped. Speak to us as you would to your friends, as you would to your loved ones, as you would to your family members, but pray only to the Divine Source itself. There is no light greater, not even ours. We originate from the Divine Source, but we are not it. This means that ultimately direct exchange can and should take place always and everywhere. Many of you try to talk to us, pray to us as well. But the omnipotence of the Divine Source, the loving Divine Source, is immeasurable. And even though we have been appointed as helpers for ensouled humanity, it does not mean that we are always and without exception informed about what His next Divine steps are.

Beloved children in light. We see the course of all humanity. We see the different paths, but each individual soul chooses the path he or she wants to take.

Beloved Children. The highest and most powerful prayer or principle is ultimately love. Coupled with gratitude, it is ultimately the vibration that can bring you closest to God.

You do not necessarily need to thank us, although we are always and invariably happy to do so, but gratitude puts each and every one of you in a state that strengthens the connection many times over. Gratitude is and remains the superconsciousness in which miracles are possible.

Beloved Children. Why is prayer so important? We hear many of you: Why doesn't God intervene more strongly? Why does God allow this to happen? God also respects your free will. God contacts you again and again. Just like a loving mother or father permanently cares and wants to care for each and every one of his children.

You succeed in carrying the Divine Light into the world only in exchange with Him. This means that when you focus your attention in prayer, in the silence of prayer, directly on the Divine Power, you become part of it. And we are not talking here about reciting any prayers by heart, thinking about what you could do next or what might be on TV later. But we are talking about a living, loving exchange.

Words are not necessarily needed, because there is nothing that the Holy Creator cannot perceive. But to cultivate the connection like a friendship, like a great love, that is prayer. The moment you ask and pray truly, with full heart and fervor, or in the exchange you are alone and live in trust in God, you automatically raise your vibration. The higher you vibrate, the less the darkness can reach you. The power of prayer, of communing with divinity, is ultimately the key to everything. And again, it's not about just begging, it's about living the exchange, the devotion to the fullest. And it also means respecting God's rules and living them as well.

That means whenever you see injustice and do nothing about it, you agree. Whenever you turn away from the suffering of others without intervening when it is immediately in your sight, you are not doing God's work. And it does not mean that you should throw yourself somewhere in front of others all day and forget yourself. It means roaming through life with mindfulness and attention, and ultimately powerfully using your voice to say yes or no.

The moment more people seek connection to the Divine Source itself, the light will be able to work through each individual. At the moment it is not always possible, because people have closed themselves more and more or more strongly from God over many, many centuries and furthermore have closed themselves from their own being, which is the connection to the Divine Source itself. This closing off is ultimately the reason why God cannot work through individuals, for the simple reason that He also respects the free will of man, as it is His greatest gift to mankind. And before you start thinking about why we keep saying "He" and not "She", it is due to simplicity. Neither "He" nor "She" would even come close to doing justice to the Divine Core.

Beloved children in the Light. Free yourselves from any indoctrination. Free yourselves from any imposed clauses or from any words that are also only limitations. In the exchange with Divinity, there is no need for limiting words. But it does require taking the time to go into the exchange. To listen. To be ready for the answers! In the past, many of you have only begged, whined or pleaded. In the end, this means that you were constantly calling somewhere and talking to the answering machine.

How do you behave from now on when God calls you? What power and what strength are you willing to let flow? To what extent are you willing to accomplish the Divine work in the world? Who is above God? No one.

The Divine Omnipotence, the Creator Himself, gives you permission to be free and to use your free will. To what extent do you trust the Divine Power to protect you when you use this free will? It is not about using free will to harm others. It's just about seeing yourself for what you are, a creature of Omnipotence. And it is about living this power and this strength now.

To bring the light of God into the world is the desire of every soul. But for this it is necessary to let the soul speak as well. To live the connection to the soul as well. To get out of the thought carousel and simply implement and have the trust in God that nothing can happen if you use the free will that was given to you.

If it means accepting reprisals, you decide what is a reprisal for you. Is it important to put a vacation or a job or whatever above God, or are you willing to trust God in such a way that He will provide you with everything you need if you righteously and honestly follow His will? There is no power greater. But only if you are willing to live the devotion as well and clearly stand up for yourself and not weigh up whether to follow the will of the supposed power that governs you.

Beloved child. It is all about now. It is about walking the path of light. It is about accepting that the darkness fights with everything it has. And it's also about seeing that you don't bow to the darkness, that you choose the path of light. It is, in the final analysis, a bit of the Last Judgment. It's about taking a very clear stand. To follow the darkness because of some convenience, or to turn uprightly towards the light.

Beloved children in the light. It may sound harsh to some of you, but ultimately life is given by God, and betraying its origin can never be the way. To allow yourself to be poisoned by the darkness physically, mentally and spiritually in the truest sense of the word because of perceived reprisals, such as not being able to go to a restaurant or, as mentioned, not being able to make the trips you want to make, is to surrender to the darkness. To be upright and to stand upright for the light, that is the task that every single ensouled being on this planet has at the moment.

Free yourself from any limitations you have with the concept of God. You can also say Creator. The indoctrination that the injustices that have been preached in many institutions that supposedly do God's work are ultimately null and void when each individual soul seeks the connection to the Source itself and also accomplishes this work.

The moment you surrender yourself completely to the Source, you are ready to let the Divine Light flow through every pore of your being. What darkness can oppose this light? The stronger this light works in you, the love, the omnipotence of His being, the less the darkness will reach you. The less reprisals you have to fear.

Beloved children in the light. You are indeed standing at the precipice that leads you to decide which path you will take next. The eye of the needle through which you must pass is getting narrower and narrower. The supposed duties, the supposed compulsions become stronger and stronger and tighter and tighter until you surrender completely to free will and say no.

Beloved children in the light. Many of you ask again and again, how can this happen, how could this happen. These questions were also asked 70 years ago. And at that time there was neither internet nor computer, where each person can gather his own information to think for himself - and we don't mean the carousel of thoughts led by darkness, but the very logical thinking about what is right and what is wrong. Can it be right to torture children? Can this be God's work? Can this be God's will? Does it make sense to not get enough oxygen? Think logically - and say no.

Self-empowerment, using free will and freely recalling where your soul comes from, namely from the Divine Source, from the Original Source of all being, from the Omnipotence of Love, that's what it's all about. To stand upright. To stand upright for the Light. To stand upright for love. To stand upright for justice.

Beloved children. You are much more than you think. Join together. Reach out to each other. It does not mean looking down on or verbally attacking those who cannot, will not, or whatever. It just means reaching out to them. If they don't want to take it, you can't do anything. That is also free will.

But it can be helpful for each of you to have tried again and again. To have tried again and again to wake people up, to reach out.

Beloved children in the light. There are very many beings among you who are not ensouled. These beings can possibly come along friendly, but always recognizable by a certain coldness. A coldness of feeling and the desire for power. In former times you looked up to these people or to these beings. The term human being can actually not be used in this form, because as said, there is no ensoulment or just they have sold their souls - to recognition, to prosperity or wealth - to whatever, but not to love.

Beloved children in the light. You decide. Every day. To walk every step in the light of Divine Omnipotence or to let the darkness make you small. This is your decision. And this is ultimately what the earth is moving towards. Justice will be in the end when God completely takes hold and removes the darkness, but for this it is necessary that your light shines in full.

Justice will come, do not deceive yourselves that God will not do justice. Only God is like the loving Father who does not want to give up any soul as long as it is ready to turn to Him, to do His tasks, to let His power, His light flow through itself. And for this it is necessary that mankind fully see through the lie and the deception that has been going on for centuries.

Information is a debt of fetching and you have spent so many centuries being told what to do and what not to do, you have submitted for the convenience of the computer, the television. You have been told what to think, what to do and what not to do. But check if what you are told is in harmony with divinity. And you will always have the common sense that tells you what is in harmony with the Divine Creation and what is not. Do not be mistaken. The Light will prevail. God will win!

Limit the time of suffering, each one of you, by bringing His Light into the world more strongly and powerfully than you have ever done before. And use prayer to do it. Use the powerful resource that is in each and every one of your cells. Everything can be altered, everything can be healed, everything can be transformed by the loving power of Divinity.

You are never alone. We are by your side, but we cannot walk the steps for you. We can only help you if you invite us into your lives. And God will work through anyone who allows this, and that is the true miracle of life and change in the world.

Be blessed in the infinite love and patience of the Almighty, now and always, and so be it.”
