

Transliteration of the Channeling "Manifestations" of Archangel Chamuel by Heike Lieselotte Schneider on September 27, 2023

"Blessings to you, beloved children of light. We are the energy which you call Chamuel.

Beloved children in the light. We wish to speak to you today on the subject of "manifestation" or "manifestations". We would like to point out to you today what is especially important now in the next time, in order to make the future a little more lightful, or how important and how essential it is to prepare now for what is to come.

Everything we say is not inspired with fear, that means you don't need to worry about the future. Still the hint: Be a little foresighted, have enough food and drink at home that you can just retreat for a few days, but nevertheless it will go much more smoothly and harmless than you can imagine at the moment and this is the reason why everything takes so long.

Beloved children. At the moment it is still due to the awakening of the earth, which is getting stronger every day and is also more healing and is 99% liberated by now - now and then it still has to carry too much negativity in different places - but you see it in the volcanic eruptions, in the things, in the nature experiences or events, that are not man-made - and they are relatively few - that even the Earth is trying to proceed as harmlessly or as clearly or as gently as possible, and that is exactly the way that is needed, because otherwise too many people would suffer or would also not go along with the ascension process.

Everything that has happened in the past or everything that has run or is still running in the underground or in the background serves to ensure that as few people as possible suffer greater harm.

The current problems still on the body structure are bones, tendons but especially the neck, the power center that is opening up more and more or getting stronger - the power to say "no" for example - and we say this consciously with a smile - but also the area of the thymus gland, which contrary to what has been communicated in science, is only needed for the development from child to adulthood, but it is also needed to ultimately develop the spiritual body further.

The thymus gland is located about a hand's breadth above the end of the sternum, the sternum above the chest and you can feel it if you gently tap your fingertips over the sternum - you will find a place that is particularly sensitive or feels different than all the other energy centers so to speak and you can help by gently tapping the thymus gland or just directing energy to it, paying attention to it to activate it more strongly and more intensely.

Beloved Children. Generally speaking, the thymus gland, pineal gland and heart chakra is the invitation, so to speak, for all the positive that is coming. The more you stay in the heart, thymus or pineal gland, the more energy you direct into it, the stronger, the more intense your personal awakening process will be and the more you will be able to change even positive things in the future or to see through the so-called matrix or the spectacle more quickly.

It is about taking your time. These processes that take place in the body are still very intense and very exhausting, you need a lot of sleep and finally, try to stay away from electronic devices as much as possible, as long as that is possible. There are a lot of rays trying to influence the thought structures of everyone, and what the rays create at least allows the dark Ones to travel on those rays to do their part as well.

In addition, you will also find that you sneeze more often or your eyes water more often as well - and we are not just talking about the environmental poisoning that continues to take place to keep humanity small and low - stripes in the sky are not clouds, as you know - it is ultimately about the awakening process gaining more and more dynamics and more and more momentum.

The tipping point has long been passed, just as a stone that is slowly rolled down a mountain picks up speed with every meter, so to speak, so the development will now also continue to pick up speed.

The important thing is to stay in God trust, to stay in connection and to stay in power and to create as little dark energy as possible.

Beloved children in the light. We explained to you again for more information - or for better understanding - how ensouled people or ensouled beings can create darkness. We are well aware that this does not happen consciously, but that it is completely unconscious.

Fear is the absence of love, darkness is the absence of light. You have creative power - darkness has no creative power at all!

Why are you held in fear like this - in fear, in anger, in despair? Anger is rising very high at the moment. But to be angry at creatures that have no heart or soul or anything else makes no sense. Indifference would be the way to go here. We know we are asking a lot, but nevertheless, it is of great importance that we say this again.

Why should you stay away from electronic devices? Because any form of programming has an impact on your well-being, your being, and of course, it is a corruption of brain waves, a change in brain waves. Nature can heal, the television cannot. All that has been given to you through movies or through any stories or through any fearful news is designed to bring you into the imagination through your creative power to manifest something.

The darkness needs the manifestation power of the animate human being to be able to produce negativity at all. The moment you decide to no longer participate in this fearful story and, so to speak, dissolve the darkness through laughter, through love, through joy, through gratitude, happiness, it will no longer exist. The darkness cannot create anything.

Once again the hint how the darkness is nourished by you. If you have water and you take the oxygen out of the water, then you are left with hydrogen. And if you have the soul force and take out the love, the energy that is left is not powerful enough, so to speak, to break or dissolve the dark but strong enough to feed the dark. We know you are not doing this on purpose. But thought hygiene is of such great importance, especially if you just want to manifest a positive or faster positive, faster arriving positive future.

For you, it's about imagining the most beautiful things. It's about imagining how the world could be. And for that you need time and also imagination. Because based on the experience that you have had or all of humanity has had over thousands of years, you lack the imagination to be able to imagine the most beautiful things. Peace, harmony, love, mutual respect, decency, and honor, that is what the people, humanity, the original people were born with, because the connection to the Divine Source was or is so strong. Nevertheless, it is a matter of now dissolving layer by layer of ego structures, of letting go.

The thinker is not bad per se, he is just corrupted. You are programmed with so many images because television gives you images. And any clairvoyant or sighted person will watch as little television as possible due to the fact that sometimes the visions are otherwise overridden by images from television. It is important and essential that you keep your energy at a level to create the best manifestations. Imagine the world that is much greener, where the plants are bigger, where the yield is richer, where the soil is sacred and pure. Where the water is clear - and we are not just talking about a mountain stream, but we are talking about the rivers that run through the earth. The great rivers that are just so clear that you could see the ground, so to speak. We are talking about harnessing energy from the ether. We are talking about being free in the choices. We are talking about having no authorities imposing anything on you, but working for your highest good, if at all. We are talking about creating paradise on earth. We are talking about reviving ancient, ancient plants that have not been manipulated in any way. We are talking about returning to your origin, where communication with the earth, with the birds, with the living beings was easy. We are talking about making miracles happen.

This is the task, whatever seems beautiful to you, focus your attention there. Imagine the world as you would like it to be. And it doesn't matter how detailed you are, the feeling behind it decides. Use the power of your imagination to begin now to create paradise on earth. Where each person does work that makes them happy, that brings a positive return to the community, to all of humanity. New ideas that can be created, new techniques that can be created. Imagine the most incredible and rejoice in it, in the images that could be.

Stay in the heart, in the love, in the joy. You will surely have noticed that more and more or faster things you think come true, both the positive and the supposedly negative.

We would like to point out again that you create the negative slower than the positive because of the vibrational frequency - it is simply a different frequency. If you look at your life and you see that the negative still has the upper hand, then you are not vibrating high enough to create the positive. And this is where the community, this is where the entire human family is ultimately needed to drive this forward.

Don't let anyone scare you anymore, because fear only serves to serve the darkness, and that is why it is brought into the world. Take the examples of animals or especially children who are fearless, who try everything. Of course, they should be given a safe framework, but ultimately the greatest power is in freedom from fear. A soul that is aware that it cannot be destroyed does not need to be afraid of anything.

Beloved children in the light. Use these manifestation ideas. And you will realize how fast the change can come and how great and how wonderful it can be. A life in peace, where law and order reign and where darkness in any form has no place anymore.

If you assume that what we are saying resonates with you, that you can feel in your heart how beautiful that would be if cruelty no longer occurred or cruelty was no longer created or allowed to occur, if it is a matter of a word being a word, of being able to interact with each other, and you feel unconsciously that the soul that is facing you means absolutely nothing but well with you because of the fact that this soul has understood: If it means well with you, it means well with itself.

Beloved children. You are going into an exciting time. Do not be afraid at all! Be completely fearless! Create your environment as you want it to be. Stay in the power! The darkness cannot reach you if you swing higher. Love keeps the darkness away - fear attracts it! Anger, rage, hate, envy, resentment - you know it.

You, beloved being, you are here to bring exactly that into the world.

You are here because you deserve to be here to create this new time.

And know that only the most powerful and greatest souls are especially qualified to travel to this realm or time now and drive these changes for all of humanity.

Know that your strength and your power is sufficient to initiate the changes that you desire.

You are so exceptional, you are so special, you are so magnificent, you are so full of inner and outer beauty that your power and your strength shines and can and will shine throughout the entire universe, through all dimensions.

The less you get stuck in fear or in worry and the more you have the connection to the Divine Original Source, to Omnipotence itself, to Love, to the actual Being, the stronger and more intense the experience of the positive will be, the more beautiful the experiences will be, the greater the miracles that you personally can let arise in your immediate environment.

The force of love is and remains the highest in the universe. The vibration of love is and remains the highest in the universe. The power and the connection - that is exactly what it is all about. Freedom. To experience yourself.

This incarnation is ultimately meant - like any other incarnation - to fully realize the soul and carry the soul light into the world, not the head. As said, the thinker is not evil per se, the thinker is there to make decisions, but like a tool, it should be turned on and off when not needed.

The love, which is in every single soul, which is incarnated at present - and we speak only of the ensouled beings, because the others cannot feel any love - is so powerful and so all-embracing, that one soul is enough to make the Divine Light completely visible on the earthly level. You also have this power!

Your magnificence, your gratitude, your humility, your care, your ability to love, your confidence, your hope, your entire being is the reason why you are here today to create this new world.

You are infinitely loved. And you do not go any step of your life without help. Only now and then you should ask for help more often.

We bless you all in the light of Divine Omnipotence, Now and in all time and so be it!"
