

Transliteration of the Channeling "Paths" of Archangel Chamuel by Heike Lieselotte Schneider on January 28, 2023

“Be blessed, you beloved children of light. We are the energy you call Chamuel.

Beloved children in the light. Today, of course, we would like to talk again about your, about the current transformation processes, to consider a little bit the forecasts, but also mainly our main topic will be "The Paths", "The New Paths", which leads into the new life, into the new time.

Beloved children in the light. You are still transforming on completely every level of your body always also taking into consideration that you would have to do or should do a lot for yourself, that you are starting to look more into alternative paths and consider that at the moment more and more of the darkness is still being thrown into the field. It will be incited more and more. The darkness is still fighting for survival, of course, but they are bringing everything possible to distract you, to keep you in fear, to ensure their nourishment for as long as possible, which you are creating through fear, anger, rage, hatred, envy, resentment.

Beloved Children. The thing that is most in transformation at the moment - except for every single cell of your body, and of course we say this with a smirk because we know very well what valleys you are going through at times - but the main issue at the moment is the absorption of the Light Language. That means that you often see colors or pictures with closed eyes, that means that here and there you have nerve pains in the area of the facial nerves, especially in the area of the ears, which partly go down to the shoulders. It is the triangle, so to speak, the Golden Triangle, which is ultimately responsible for being able to receive the light language. This is something that you cannot and will not understand, not in the present time.

The Light Language is ultimately a reactivation that is becoming stronger and more massive to help you get through this whole time in the first place, so to speak. Depending on how big the resistances are, the bigger the one or the other pain is sometimes.

When you are ready to enter into devotion, then it is easier for the body, also for the mind. The spirit, as said, is not the thinker, but it is what you ultimately send out. What is of great importance is that you let your mind rest often. Resting means, of course, not permanently disturbing the mind with thoughts, disturbing the sending out of your vibration, and not 'demonizing' the thinker, but asking him for more rest. This means that as soon as you start watching your brain, watching your thoughts, they will stop on their own. It is ultimately so simple and we invite you to practice this as often as possible.

Beloved Children in Light. Today we would like to speak on the subject of "path" or "paths". The paths that your new life holds for you. The paths that are revealed and how you can keep yourself a little more in the Force by not getting lost in one path or another.

Beloved children, imagine you are standing on a hill and you see below you the different paths - you might even call it different timelines - all leading to the same destination: the 5th dimension, the Homecoming. But one or the other path is more tortuous, with greater obstacles, the other with lesser obstacles. The point for you now is not to get too caught up in the petty warfare of everyday life, but to practically keep a bit of an overview from the hill, to use the eagle perspective, not to get caught up in the individual small issues, but to keep the focus on the 5th dimension, on reaching your new power and your new strength, on the awakening, the upheaval, the change, which is currently already in full swing.

Every day more truths are coming to light, the dark plan, the demonic plan of darkness has already come to a halt, so to speak. It cannot continue any further. But, nonetheless, of course, the darkness will do everything it can to throw so many stones in the way, to fight so much. Some levels have understood that it is done and are going into transformation, so to speak. They let go and can be redeemed by it in one way or another, but many levels continue to struggle. And this struggle shows up on all levels.

The people who have chosen to take the poison are much, much more vulnerable to it. They lose abilities of empathy, compassion depending on how much the person surrenders to authority or how much he recalls his soul.

A soul that is able, that decides not to play this game - poison or not - is able to set in motion transformation processes that you cannot imagine.

Beloved children. Before you enter into the individual battles of daily business, enter into exchange with the Creator. Seek contact, seek healing on all levels. This is true for all. But have understanding, maybe even a little compassion for the people who did not had the strength and fortitude to resist. Do not go into battle against them, go into acceptance. Also look at this from the hill, in the eagle perspective, on the meta level, whatever you want to name it. The more you go into contact with the Creator, with the Omnipotence, with the Divine Source, the stronger your soul is, because this exchange naturally comes with wonderful new energy when you allow the love of the Creator. Then you are steeled, strengthened for what is coming. And we are not saying this because we want to frighten you, because there are so many people who are already so well positioned that they are ultimately full of joy awaiting this change. Again the hint: Your souls are looking forward to this adventure, for your souls the whole thing is just an adventure. We know that one or two are now saying, "how can we say that when there is so much suffering in the world" - you have never been so close to eliminating that suffering. We have been looking at this suffering for eons of years and it is tearing our hearts as well, but our love, the desire for change is stronger, is greater, and we want you to have that as well.

Go into your power, go into your strength. Use all your being to choose the fastest, the best, the most direct path. Do not be afraid! The critical mass has been reached, therefore the light has already won. The dark plans cannot be implemented! Meanwhile, the darkness is literally tearing itself apart partly for the simple reason that the "beautiful plans" all do not really bear fruit, they no longer receive any response from the demonic level, only from weaker members of these groupings.

However, the point is that you shine with your light into every corner! To forgive does not mean to forget. Forgiveness only means to let go. To let go of the struggle. Everyone is judged in one or other way. GOD intervenes!

Nevertheless, the critical mass that ultimately calls God directly into action has not quite been reached. For the simple reason that the exchange is not there. Turn to the creator: The "source of love", the "source of all being", "God", "Allah", however you want to call HIM. Be free! Give yourselves the freedom. You are worthy to go into the exchange. Here still a little more critical mass is needed, in order to ignite the last tongues at the scales, so to speak. That's why you're being served up so much of the darkness on the outside, still, that's why you're being shown so much of the darkness on the outside, that you're coming to a point where you're really embracing all of your power, embracing all of your power and living it.

The days of living life - as it was lived in the past - partly with your head in the sand or being sprinkled by some movies, or whatever - is so over. Now the creative power, which works in you, is in demand. The expression of the creativity of the actual being, the divine power in you. The expression of the new beginning, the change, that is asked.

The wake-up calls on the light level through the light language come, And this can sometimes pinch and tweak a little. To protect our channel, of course, we point out that in the case of major problems or never-ending problems to see a doctor or an alternative practitioner, but ultimately it is about perceiving yourself, to go into the power, into the strength, into the joy. To focus on what you want to create. Choosing the right path, the fastest path, the best path. And even if you get lost, turn around and choose another path. See life - and we don't mean this heretically, because we know the suffering you go through - but see your life as an adventure. If you were immortal, you would live many more adventures. You would jump down the biggest slope, you would jump out of the highest plane, you would have adventures without end if you were immortal. But remember, your souls are immortal and they want to live just like that. This does not mean to take risks in principle, but this means to accept the adventure "life" with all your senses.

Feel the new energy coming from the earth. Even if poisons are still given into the world by the dark forces without end, in the sky, on the earth, in the food, whatever, but make yourselves free. Free yourselves and know that it still goes for a limited time, but that it breaks away more and more.

You are the power, you are the change, you are the progress. It is you for whom you have waited all your life! The creative power that flows through each individual - and beautiful groups and connections have already consolidated by now, which have completely left this whole theme - it starts with families, but also beyond that circles of friends, whatever. You have the power and the strength, starting now, to create paradise on earth. The earth continues to become freer with each passing day.

We are still getting questions, a lot of questions about "Why did God allow it to go on for so long?" We would like to go a little bit into the history of what "free will" actually means. The "free will" means: everyone is allowed to decide freely. The light forces know that, the dark forces know that. "Free will" means to consciously decide for one thing or another. But free will can only be free when it is hit on the body/mind/soul level. When it is hit only with the head, which has been partially indoctrinated or hypnotized, so to speak, for so long that you believe all this: "Bigger, faster, nicer, richer, better." That was the programming to keep you in a bubble, to keep you dependent. This succeeds only if, in the end, a permanent need for lack is produced. "It must be especially expensive, it must be especially rare, it must be especially beautiful". And this was what happened in the past.

The "satanic reversal" of the dark ones is nothing else than that they had to play according to certain guidelines. The dark ones are also afraid of retribution, of karma if you will, that's why they showed you everything, that's why everything is available on the Internet. You can look everything up for yourselves. They tell you everything. Partly through movies, partly through books, partly through symposiums or forums, it's all ultimately public. If you take the time, you can see everything, you can perceive everything, you can know everything and you have a feeling for what is true and what is not true.

Self-empowerment, your own power, your own light, which you can send infinitely into the world, is of such great importance. And this light is able to transform the darkest spot yet. This is what it is all about now: the transformation. The beginning of the awakening, the real awakening.

It's about seeing that the dark ones are always trying to catch you, to bind you, with things that are a little bit out of your reach. The slightly bigger car, the slightly more expensive jewelry, the slightly nicer house, the more expensive handbag, these were the temptations - more beauty, whatever. But that the beauty inside is already there and must only be transformed on the outside, of course, that was withheld from you. You can only receive this knowledge, wisdom and inner energy directly through the Creator. The darkness does not turn to the Creator, it would be transformed immediately, but for you it is about living, acting out this power and this strength on all levels. And it is increasing more with each passing day.

The Earth is transforming and there will come a time this year when the Earth fully liberates itself. We are currently at about 94 percent plus/minus because the fear and anger of humanity about what is happening on the outside eventually causes it to flatten out every now and then. But nonetheless, this is noticeable if you engage with it. If you have the opportunity to go into nature and consciously take each step, sending light and love into the earth, you will feel the power coming back all at once. You will notice that when spring comes, the grass will be greener and the bushes will sprout more than they did before. You will notice that a change is taking place in spite of the poison that is still in the air at the moment. The power of the earth is incredible. Just as incredible as your own power. Therefore, send her love and gratitude for what she has taken upon herself and give yourself that love and gratitude for what you have taken upon yourselves to push humanity forward. You who are awake. You who want to walk the path. You who go ahead to take the others with you bit by bit. Unfortunately, many souls, very, very many souls will also leave this year, of course, because they don't want to participate in the process at this level. But they will join it from the other side. Some more, some less. And know that you are immortal. And this is what it is all about. This is ultimately the dawn, the new beginning. You decide how slow or fast, whether you take the fast path or the slow path, but don't get caught up in the day-to-day business: "the bad neighbor" or "the stupid that..." or "the naughty child" or "the sneaky co-worker." Take yourself out, observe these dramas of ego structures that have nothing to do with your salvation, with your soul, with your being, with your spirit, with the presence of your being. Let go of these things!

Beloved child in light. Truly, we say to You: You are of immeasurable greatness, of immeasurable beauty. Your light is so unique and so important in this world that we ask You to let it shine even stronger. And this luminosity will be reflected in your environment. You will reach more and more people with Your light, You will ignite more and more people with Your light.

No human being should be below your level. But know that your power and strength will bring new ideas into the world, change, warm-heartedness, empathy, sincerity, truthfulness, honor, decency, kindness, power, strength. All this is what is there in your soul. A thousand times more than anything you could experience so far. But it is going to a time when a word is a word.

You will no longer be able to lie to each other when the other feels more and more what truthfulness is. The lie will disappear from the world, the lie is part of the darkness. Your power and your strength is to carry the light, the truth, the peace, the joy, the laughter, the love, the gratitude, the beauty on all levels out into the world. And only you can do this in your uniqueness. If you could not give it, it would be missing. Only when all shine, finally, you will find that you reflect yourself and that you can live your infinity, your love in all levels. It doesn't matter what you do on the outside, what work you do: Everything you do with love will be inspired by success and will be rewarded with joy.

Do not be afraid of having to walk for years through hunger or through darkness, but know that you are building up. Each one of you has the power of change within you and around you. There are those who can bring it out more strongly and carry others with you. But free yourselves from power structures. You don't need leaders, you don't need leadership in that form, you need someone who maybe knows a little bit more about one subject or knows a little bit more about the other subject, but that's how all the energies can network. So you can build new groups, new communities, life communities, new families. Because many of you have lost your families in one way or another. The soul families that are finding each other now.

Beloved children in the light.

We believe in you!

We know that your power and your strength is there.

Beloved child in the light. We believe in you!

In you personally, in the power, the beauty, the ability to love, the infinite compassion, the infinite love that you carry within you for the change, for the improvement of the world. For restoring paradise on earth.

That is the reason why you came here.

That is the reason why you incarnated.

That is the reason why you want to bring change into the world. Because your whole being is striving to heal the earth and the people. Through joy, through gratitude, through happiness, through your glow, through your being.

Know that you are infinitely loved. You are a unique piece of the creative power. A unique being, born from divinity with infinite creative power.

If only your faith is big enough, everything is possible for you! Because 'according to your faith will it be done to you.'

And know, you are never alone. We go every step with you. We are always at your side when you invite us.

Invite us. But also seek the exchange with the Creator Himself. With the power and strength of the Primordial Energy, the Source of Love, of All That Is.

The struggles on the outside, when you fill yourself with your own energy, will disappear, because the energy struggle on the outside no longer has to take place. And when you send this out into the world, you are the multiplier that you are set up to be in this game called "life."

You are walking a path that is so full of beauty, if you recognize it.

The abomination of humanity will disappear because you are helping it to do so.

Be blessed in the light of Divine Omnipotence, Divine Love and Divine Grace, now and forever and so be it!"

(Archangel Chamuel)
