

Transliteration of the Channeling "Souls" of Archangel Chamuel by Heike Lieselotte Schneider on August 26, 2023

"Blessings to you, beloved children of light. We are the energy which you call Chamuel.

Beloved children in the light. First of all, as always, we would like to talk a little bit about the current events, and then we will talk about the topic - we have been asked to give a message about this - about the "souls".

First of all, it is that the earth is more and more in the healing area, more and more going into the healing phase. There are still places, few places, where the earth is still bound. This, of course, has to do with the pain of the people who live there - anger, fear or whatever the earth is trying to transform. Especially after the darkness still starts to implement certain plans, dark plans. Nonetheless, it is of great importance to see that the darkness is losing more and more power. It is balling up on different levels, in different groups of people or groups of beings, let's put it this way. The leadership level has broken away in many areas and because of that darkness A is fighting darkness B, so to speak. They are at disagreement with themselves, they will become more and more at disagreement with each other and nevertheless those, the hangers-on, are still diligently implementing the agendas to some extent. Many things can and will be prevented or rather have already been prevented, but some things happen for the simple reason that the pain would be so great and a form of transformation is taking place here as well.

You, who observe the whole thing, it is sometimes bad. And therefore it is of great importance to go into the eagle perspective. Nothing happens without purpose. Many souls who go, who may go in cruel ways, have chosen to go in order to take away some of the suffering of the earth. Of course, this is perhaps difficult to understand from the normal, classical human mind, but some souls take the worst upon themselves to bring even more light into the world, because sometimes it is not possible otherwise, especially in certain places that were very -literally- bogged down by all the dirt that the parasitic ruling class, so to speak, triggered, caused, robbed.

The transformation processes that are still taking place for you are of course that you are still in transformation phases on the physical level everywhere, in all cells, and through this you are being hurled again and again in the truest sense of the word depending on which areas are currently free, where the power of the earth is breaking forth greater and stronger and where ultimately the strongest transformation processes are taking place.

The earth will become more and more awake and the healing area or the different healing areas are very active, they are very supported by light workers and indigenous peoples, and the process is taking place in a very comprehensive and transformative way. There is a cleansing taking place on an energetic level, which of course is also partially cleansing the earth itself or the material of the earth, the body of the earth. That is why you will notice that certain things start to grow. Also, old plants are starting to revive, old types of plants. So much has been tried to be broken in order to have control over humanity, over the food, over the nutrients, over whatever, but nevertheless, the seed of the old plants, of the old healing powers is in the earth, and the more healed the earth becomes, the stronger and more intense these very things will burst forth again. Plants that suddenly seed themselves, plants that grow larger than they ever were, change. This is what the earth is in right now and the new energy that it is drawing and the hope because humanity is still trying to support it more and more and we would like to ask you here at this point not to let up in supporting it with light and love and blessings. You can bless every river, you can bless every forest, you can bless every tree - start doing this more and more.

Beloved children. The ascension process has begun. It is irreversible and the light is increasingly noticeable to those who want to see. Many people are turning to us and asking, "Why is there so much wickedness, why is there so much evil in the world?"

Beloved children in light, for this we would like to explain to you a little more about "souls" or the state of souls. A soul is always and without exception created, born, endowed with the Divine Spark and sent into the world by the Divine Source itself. A soul always has the heart qualities within it: to love, to be loved, the hands to bless and heal, and compassion. If one of these things is missing, you can assume that a being you meet, who does not have this, does not have a soul!

There are indeed beings or entities - not "beings" that are always ensouled, but "entities" - that are ultimately multidimensional beings. There are beings who, through long research and trying to be better than God Himself, have managed to fragment their soul, to split off their emotional body, and by doing so they have made themselves more or less psychopaths or sociopaths. These beings have no compassion at all. They don't care if someone lives or if someone dies, if someone suffers - they take note of it as if someone would watch a movie bored.

There are entities that have been artificially created in order to maintain certain illusions - these entities are also not ensouled. There are entities in the multidimensional spectrum, which vibrate much higher than you, but which nevertheless do not carry the creative power in themselves as you carry it in you. You are indeed something special for many beings from all dimensions, from all times. And this specialness, which lies in you, is due to the fact that you are always and directly connected to the Divine Source via your Higher Self and carry the Divine spark of creating, of creating within yourself.

How can you tell if a being is ensouled or not? If you are in awareness and feel into your hearts, you can very well sense whether a person is ensouled or not. Only at present you are so well educated that you do not want to be rude in the end. But if you have the feeling that you are facing a being who is completely unsympathetic to you, where everything in you screams "Away!", then follow this impulse. Not out of fear, but because you should not engage in some fight or some verbal rip-off with a being that has no soul in it at all. Every dog, every cat, every mouse that is soulful has more power and strength in it than this being. This being can only affect you with power and dominance, with physical strength, but never with the spiritual power, because there is none. But since you have not yet accepted that your spiritual power is much higher than that of these unsouled entities, you are still in suffering pressure. Each of you is now going stronger and stronger through your personal "tight spot," the "fine tuning," the "bottleneck," whatever you want to call it, in order to liberate yourselves. It is a form of liberation that is produced as if through a birth canal. Through the pressure that is on the outside, the power on the inside breaks open.

Beloved children. It is the time when soul families find each other, when soul brothers and sisters meet. It is the time when one or the other dual soul also finds each other. It is the time where finally humanity, the soulful humanity starts to stand to each other.

The beings or the entities that decided that children should die alone, because certain regulations did not allow any other permission, are not ensouled human beings. Those who separated the old from the families, who looked down on others, denounced others, are not completely ensouled people. And there are different gradations. The greater the fear, the greater the hatred, anger, despair or whatever. Ultimately, a soul that distances itself from God is always ready to go stronger and stronger in fear, anger, hatred, envy, resentment or wrath. And the greater the distance from the Divine Source by simply turning away, the greater the ego structure. The greater the ego structure, the quieter the soul becomes. It does not disappear, but it becomes quieter and quieter. It disappears only when it has been sold. And there are indeed, even if it sounds very scary to you, there are certain dark rituals where exactly that happens, where the soul can be sold. If you look closely, you can see this in many celebrities. How they are at the beginning of their career, what kind of music they sang, what kind of things they did, how they looked, and then how after a short time in the career they acquire to any extent of obscenities, of Satanic, also expressions. These are beings, formerly human beings, who have sold their souls and are thus unsouled. They actually lack, in the truest sense of the word, the Divine Will, the Divine Spark and the Divine Protection. Why does God allow this to happen? Free will! The greatest gift! Everyone can decide for Him or against Him.

Beloved children. As said, there are various multidimensional beings who have no empathy at all. Those who have empathy try to support you in one way or another, but they also have ego structures. Through this also possibly here and there also a manipulation could take place, consciously or unconsciously. You recognize animated people, animated beings by a look into the eyes and this is the same with humans and animals.

When the soul is in possession, the soul is "resident" in the body, so to speak, it is that a powerful, strong connection, an exchange takes place. Unsouled entities or also multidimensional beings, which walk around without a soul, but can only exist with a form of corrupted energy, will always try to control others with fear, anger, rage, indoctrination, pettiness. This is possible as long as the human being is not awake. If a human being feels what he is himself, if he recognizes this power and strength in himself and uses it out of love, darkness has no chance at all.

There are different types of souls. So to speak, every soul decides under which star it or under which archangel ray it was incarnated or also born, so to speak. In the end, the soul spark is always connected with all the energies of the Archangels. It is not that we are your boss, so to speak, in any way, quite the contrary, it only means that you are brothers, sisters, brothers of ours, and depending on which ray you incarnate under, so to speak, you choose which family you reside in, which family you live in.

It is the predominant heart qualities that this soul brings in this incarnation. For example, those born under Archangel Michael, they become the fighters of light. They are the fighters of light, they are the ones who normally stand up for truthfulness, for honesty, for sincerity. Of course, this can be corrupted, but all souls incarnated under the color "blue" of the Archangel Michael, so to speak, find each other. This does not mean that one cannot be connected across soul families. Ultimately, it is the case that soul families are always connected to each other because of their connection through the soul. Nevertheless, it is quite logical that someone who brings the same qualities of heart can naturally be understood more strongly or intensely by the other, because the similarity is there after all. This is called "soul family", being born under the same ray, under the same energy.

Now, however, it is the case that many people have literally lost their souls in the course of the last three years. We once explained to you that the moment certain things are done to the body by certain medications with such cruel energies, the soul leaves the body.

It is not that it changes dimension, it is that the soul parts are blasted out of the physical structure. They are still for the most part distributed in the auric field and are also protected by the personal guardian angels. Nevertheless, these holes in the auric field are inviting to give shelter to the darkness. And this means that an occupation can take place. We distinguish between attachment, occupation and possession.

"Attachment" is that through your thought structures you "invite" one thing or another that can feast on your auric field, so to speak - usually it happens, or 99.9% happens through unconsciousness (fear, anger, rage, hatred, envy, resentment, resentment in any form) that occupations can attach to the auric field. This is, of course, especially like souls who normally can radiate well, carry a lot of love in the heart to keep them in the low vibration through pain, through loss, through fear is, of course, a great goal.

An "occupation" happens when a direct connection to the body is already established. Over long lasting pain, not wanting to let go of anger or resentment, it happens that the occupation is permanent. As if you were carrying a dark demon on your shoulder or several of them.

A "possession" is possible only after the soul has left the body. Sometimes a small spark of the Divine Spark is still left over, only when someone has sold their soul, the Divine Spark is sold with it, so to speak. That means an empty shell is available and can be used and possessed by all forms of the dark Ones. This means that it is very common, especially in what you once called "elitist", in elitist circles, because it has led to a lot of power and money. Literally, people have sold the pricelessness of the soul for mammon. These defunct souls have no compassion at all and are capable of the worst deeds - artificially manufactured sociopaths, psychopaths. It makes no sense to be angry at these entities. Indifference, maybe a touch of compassion, but a very clear "No!" to the reign of power and the reign of torture that these entities have carried out. "Forgiving" does not mean "forgetting." Everybody must give account sometime and stand to what he has done.

As we already explained the "soul families" to you, we would now like to explain the difference between "soul partnerships" and "dual souls". Imagine an iceberg. In an iceberg, two thirds of the mass is under the water. If you now imagine it as if it were the other way around, as if these two thirds were, so to speak, on the other level, on the higher level, we would be talking here about the "Higher Self". And just as the iceberg always has the connection to the water, so to speak, the Higher Self always has the connection to the Divine Source itself. Soul partnerships, so to speak, are when two souls meet from the same family. Then there is the one or the other balancing through incarnations, through many common experiences, which can take place to lasting friendships also beyond the monads - "monad" is the soul family - and then there are the dual souls. The "dual soul" means that two people who are incarnated access the same Higher Self, it is an iceberg with two hills, so to speak. This means that one is infinitely close to the other, but one carries the shadows and the other carries the light. And the art is to make the shadows into the light and let the light shine so brightly that the shadows dissolve and the light or the light-filled part learns to love the shadows as well. When we speak of "shadows," we are not speaking of abysmal evil, but only of polarity, of oppositeness. And exactly this oppositeness is what on the one hand makes the attraction and on the other hand just also looks for balance. Just like water, which again and again tries to make a way and again aligns itself with a clear surface, never flows uphill or downhill, but again and again tries to fill the puddle, so to speak, to fill the hole in the earth, to become plane.

Beloved children. It is, of course, always a part of the quality of heart to have compassion. But to have compassion for entities that are not ensouled is like looking with compassion at an empty bucket. These entities are occupied, possessed by others. And these entities are abysmally evil, because they do not carry any light and love in themselves and no Divine spark! They feed, in the truest sense, on the pain, the fear, the anger, the hatred of humanity and especially on the pain, the fear, the agony of the most innocent beings.

This regime will end now! There is no turning back and the darkness knows it.

And yet they are still fighting with all their bandages in the hope of taking with them as many of you humans, ensouled beings. What is important here is to stand firm. It is important to go into your own power and strength and it is important to seek the connection to the Divine Source. Meditation is important, but praying is also of great importance. Seeking exchange with the Creator Himself, several times a day, can only be helpful. This is only a suggestion, how you implement it is up to you. The exchange with the Creator can bring you so much relief, so much power and strength that you cannot imagine otherwise.

Beloved child in the light. You are envied in the truest sense of the word. By the dark ones, by the beings who do not carry the Creator, the Divine Spark directly within themselves, who have split it off or who have even killed it within themselves, who walk only as empty shells.

You are something very special. You are something so powerful and so infinitely loved by the Creator Himself that you occupy a special position, so to speak, in the world events, in the universe, however you want to call it. And this power and this strength will become all the greater, the more you unite.

No soul will be abandoned! But the soul itself must want, or better said the human being must want this possibility of the free will and must confess to the divinity again, in order to receive thereby the power and the strength again in itself, to lead back the soul parts again into the body. If this succeeds, everything is possible.

Go your way by paying attention to your needs.

Try to have compassion, but try not to feel pity.

Don't try to permanently pull someone out of the mud who keeps choosing to be in the mud.

Don't try to save someone who has no compassion in them because the Divine Spark is not there.

Pay attention to your being.

Be an example, be a luminosity for the others without imposing your will on them.

Stay in the observer role, stay in your own power, stay in your own connection to the divinity itself.

The souls or the fragments of souls, which are still necessary or still there, will be irretrievably attracted by your light and they will ask you for help if necessary.

Have understanding for the people who did not have the power to resist, to stand up for themselves. But do not give them the power to make you feel small or to keep you small in any way.

Now is the time for you to shine. In the truest sense of the word. Your own power, your own strength, to let the light burst out of you so radiantly glistening, to be a channel for the Divine Spark, for the Divine Source itself, to dissolve this darkness more quickly and more intensely.

You will see that now begins the time when the earth is changing, when the earth is shaking, when many things will still happen to wake up, to take as many humans with as possible.

But in the end - when someone knocks away your hand for the third time, then it is not your task to give up yourself in order to save someone else. Then it is your job to save the helpless, to protect and be there for those who have no advocate and not to serve someone whose ego is so strong.

Beloved child in the light. You are infinitely loved!

You are the creature of the Divine Omnipotence!

You are of importance, you are essential, you are part of the great plan.

And your task is to be anchored here and to let HIS light shine.

You are never alone. You are infinitely loved.

We bless you in the light of Divine Omnipotence, Now and all time and so be it!"

(Archangel Chamuel)
