

Transliteration of the Channeling "The Power of Prayer" of Archangel Chamuel by Heike Lieselotte Schneider on October 26, 2023

"Blessings to you, beloved children of light.

We will, of course, go back to the current affairs and the transformation issues or the transformation problems before we go to our actual topic - we have been asked to speak something on the topic of "On the Power of Prayer". We will be happy to do that.

First of all, we would like to point out to you that, as we have already mentioned many times, the dynamics in the events of our time are clearly increasing. It is now becoming more intense and it is getting stronger. In the middle of next month an energy stage will be ignited, so to speak, because certain constellations are ready for it, which will ultimately lead to the awakening process accelerating even more, but which will also lead to more and more new structures being revealed. The dark forces know this, of course, and that's exactly the point, that they try to light as many smoke candles as possible to keep people in fear.

The current transformation issues are still the bone structures, joints, tendons, but also the soft tissues, especially the eyes, throat, pharynx, the internal organs are now being taken along. Detoxification energies or detoxification waves are taking place, which free the body from toxins, because you know that ultimately a lot of toxins are fed to you or you let them feed to you, however you want to name it. Here it is very important to take care to drink enough liquid - especially water of course - and it is about the fact that the power and the strength now finally wants to break through more and more.

You will perhaps notice that you act one or the other time stronger, more present, perhaps acted more aggressive, if you have to listen to some stupidities or untruths, whatever. But this does not mean that it is ultimately about creating aggression potential in the world, but it is about speaking your truth in love! To communicate your personal own truth in love to your counterpart.

Only by this it is finally possible to fertilize each other further, so to speak, to ascend into the new energies, to arrive in the new energies, which are already existing now, but just want to be accepted once again.

The current events of the time, what is so often called the "falsche Flagge", the "false flag", will build up more and more and more. Be certain, however, that very often now interventions will be made because certain rules, cosmic laws have not been respected and are no longer respected by the dark Ones. This, of course, causes the Divine Source to intervene more strongly and especially because the amount of consciousness of humanity is becoming more and more.

Again and again the question is asked, "Why doesn't the Source intervene more strongly?". We would like to bring to your attention here once again that ultimately you all have free will. And if there are 8 billion people in the world and only one really uses free will freely because he speaks in harmony with body, mind, soul and not because of the indoctrination or programming that has taken place, only then can truth ultimately be free and can also bring new energies into the world.

Do not misunderstand us. It is important that each of you always remain truthful in your own environment. We are speaking here of the upper layers, so to speak, of the layers that are outside of your own consciousness, that which goes off in the subconscious or that which is ultimately not accepted in the powerful existence, in the powerful being, the "I Am" presence.

Beloved children in the light. These energies that are working are firing, so to speak, on all the limitations that have been set in the auric field to break down more and more, in all people. Some people will have great problems with this, others will see it with ease, and still others will suddenly become more aware of the strength and depth of this problem.

In the power in which you should stay, it is of great importance to approach certain things with joy and with fun. And this joy and this fun helps in the end exactly to the fact that ... (pause).

Beloved children. We have to interrupt here briefly or we had to interrupt here briefly because due to the phases, it is the high months at the moment of the dark ones, and these high months of the dark ones culminate in the special ritual that takes place on Halloween or rather on November 1st and we have to try to protect our channel so far that she does not make herself vulnerable in certain areas and we have to insist that she is ultimately so in her protection. That is why the channeling today is limited to the essentials.

Be careful not to go into fear. Keep in mind that as before, the dark Ones use fear ultimately to corrupt the Creator Force in order to be able to harvest it. There is this saying that sheep are afraid of the shepherd dog all their lives, but ultimately the shepherd is the greater danger to them. If you internalize that, you will find that ultimately these artificially created fear and panic fads, which are ultimately meant to ensure that you just corrupt as much Creator Force as possible, that this very issue comes up, that you a) may no longer believe everything or b) simply don't check it out. A fearful mind has no time to check if the story is true, it just wants to run away, it just wants to pull itself out, and that is exactly what is ultimately happening right now.

As long as you all stay in the soul or stay in touch with the soul or go to the silent space of the soul as often as you can, you will be able to perceive what is happening, what is happening in the world, as an observer from the eagle perspective, without despairing of it. We know that for many of you there are also financial problems, therefore simply the hint: Help each other. One can do one thing, the other can do another. The more and more intensively you will use this, the easier and stronger it will be in the end, the transformation will be, but this transformation will not come with a bang and a trumpet - it will be crowned by it, but it will not arise from it, but it will arise from the fact that certain things simply need their time to become true.

Beloved children in the light. (Pause) The next time and the new energies that are working will empower you to perceive more and more, to see through more and more of humanity, or rather to see through what is left of humanity.

When intuition says "Stop! No conversation!" or when you feel that this person, this counterpart is just not doing you any good at the moment, then give the "No!", then turn around and leave.

It is about the fight between light and dark, between GOD and the demonic level. In the end it is really about a biblical time. And to meet this biblical time not with worry, not with fear, but really quite consciously and in the heart decisively "Stop!" and acting out in the head.

Beloved children. You will perceive so many changes within the next year and you will find, when the earth is free, that many changes will occur by themselves. And these changes will also mean that your natural powerful being will come more and more to the fore. A lot of people will disappear, they will simply live in another time line, that means they are still there, but you won't really manage to meet them anymore, because there will always be some excuses found or conscious decisions to keep a certain distance. This will happen more and more and many beings will still say goodbye. Nevertheless, the point is that you have decided, all of you who are listening to this, to go along with the ascension. And this ascension process into the new energies is always happening, only the bigger waves are coming now in October/November/December. It is of great importance to stay in the power, in the strength, it is of great importance to say "No!" and it is of great importance to praise life and of course to live it.

Beloved children in the light. The next time will be very eventful. You are prepared for everything, you have food and drinks at home, you have a little stock whenever possible in the financial, you stay away from the big cities if possible and you will find your world, your life will not change at all. It will only change when you realize that your perception, your seeing, your hearing, your feeling has a completely different intensity, that even once, when you are in the forest oblivious, you watch a mouse playing and all of a sudden you can feel love.

You will find that these changes, which are of great importance and significance, will penetrate your life more and more. (Pause).

We ask you to excuse the interruptions, but as we said, there are extremely strong and extremely many attacks on the lightful forces taking place at the moment and we have to intervene once in a while here and there.

Beloved children. Truly we tell you, the new time will be so full of miracles that they will be "miracle-full" in the truest sense of the word. It will be so full of happy new encounters that old things will simply no longer have their importance. The new time will help you to realize your dreams bit by bit. It actually helps you not only to perceive the new ways, but actually to walk on them and it also enables you still.... (pause) - to realize this.

Beloved children. We now come to the actual subject we want to talk about, and that is the power of prayer. "Prayer" has nothing to do with "begging," with "pleading." Praying has nothing to do with telling God something that He doesn't already know. Praying has to do with making decisions about what is wanted in life and what is not wanted in life. For the new time, we would like to point out once again that everything is transforming much faster, manifesting much faster, and you are drawing things into your life much faster. Therefore, choose wisely. Stay in love, stay in focus, stay in mindfulness to consciously make the choices. Free will can only be free when it is made by body, mind, soul. Since it is mostly made only in the mind, and that in the worrying mind, it means that what you send out is always negative. And that which comes back to you, likewise.

Beloved children in the light. From today's point of view, you can assume that this dynamic will become stronger and stronger and more and more intense until you have actually arrived in the truest sense of the word in the now, in the here and now. The power of community should not be underestimated here, and it is not for nothing that Jesus once said, "When two and more join together in my name, I will be in the midst of you."

We would like to point out, due to the many inquiries likewise once again, that we are non-denominational. We know about the structures of the supposed foundation of the "consciousness field of the earth" (smiling). However, the point for you now is to begin to make those conscious choices, and of course that means being conscious. Therefore, we would strongly suggest that you do as much mindfulness practice as you possibly can. The waves, the energies, the events that are going to happen in the world now are of such essential restructuring that sometimes it can look a little wild and it can look very desperate. But nonetheless, it is because you are still going into your own power, going into your own manifestation consciousness, and you are making a very conscious decision about what paths you want to take and what connections and what interconnections need to take place. Ultimately, it is the case that the wheat has been separated from the chaff - literally. Many families have changed or been dissolved, many friendships have been cut, and the point is that the power and the force of being ultimately fuels the soul-to-soul connection. That is, you will find people who are more in your vibrational frequency and who will nonetheless be humans then as well. And these changes which come at present can be supported.

GOD does not need our prayers. But we also pray. Because every thought is nothing else than a prayer. It is the thought word, the spoken word, the sung word. But the highest is the felt word.

When we speak of "love", love feels! When we speak of freedom, freedom feels! When we speak of fears, feel how it pulls you down. The new time, when it is here, will make you very, very happy. But along the way, it will not only be moments of happiness. There will also be perhaps a little sadness, a little despair, but nevertheless it will be a wonderful time. It is a time that will enrich life in all areas and it is a time where the growth, where the eye of the needle that you have to go through is so narrow, so to speak, that in your power and in your strength you have other themes, you want to live other themes and just distance yourselves from each other, separate from each other, but nevertheless new communities and new connections are opening up like this, where the soul families are being brought together, so to speak.

This happens more and more and happens more and more often. The importance in the whole thing is to distinguish one from the other, to distinguish the thinker from the human beings who live soul energy and emit soul energy. Keep in mind here: You, of course, are also always and without exception the ones who keep the whole process a) going, or rather ... (pause) - complete.

Once again the hint: We ask to excuse the interruptions, but the security must be preserved and in this special time to make oneself available as a medium, needs very, very big and very very intensive power and strength, and that is not always completely given.

To manifest things into your life, to enrich your life, again the hint that not GOD needs your prayers, although he appreciates of course the exchange with his children on the energetic level very much, but consider: Every prayer which is spoken from the heart becomes true. It is one of the most powerful "weapons" you can imagine, one of the most powerful instruments. In a pure soul, ask and it will be given, as quickly as possible. The thing that keeps you from seeking the connection is a) the indication that many religions, faiths, are not very positive. Truly, we say to you: Beware of people who want to try to explain GOD to you, because they try to have power over you. God-knowledge is something very subjective. Every person, every soul on this world has its own connection to the Divine Source and this connection to the Divine Source is like a unique one. It is a fingerprint, it is the energy of the person who is just going into the connection. In the end, when you sit down or kneel down to pray, it just means that you are opening up. Open to the energy of the Omnipotence, the Creator, God, Allah, however you want to call HIM or the Source is up to you. The point is, if you focus on your heart chakra right now, in this moment, stay in your heart, you will notice what power, what might, what strength will begin to flow through your body. It may take a little practice in the beginning. Not because you can't do it, but because your thinking is counterproductive, your thinking naturally says "Yes, God has so much to do, why should He bother with me little worm?"

Because you are important!

Because you are essential!

Because you are a big part of the real plan.

Because you are so much more powerful than anything you can imagine.

Because you are so much more open.

Because you have so much more heart.

Because you have so much more knowledge that you could access if you went within.

The soul can only speak when there is silence.

Everything else is mind that is manipulated, that is bent, that is programmed, that ultimately doesn't have the power and the strength of energy to create anything positive, but a lot of negativity. And that again just helps to tap into the actual energy structure or the actual essence structure of the earth besides the energetic structure.

Beloved Children. Praying does not mean that you have to recite any spells - unless you want to - if they bring you peace, why not. Praying ultimately means experiencing the Creator's love in the here and now, feeling it and thereby being so high vibrationally that you are able to perceive and also discuss your entire incarnations.

We know that this sounds very abstract to you, but nevertheless, here is the hint again: The bottom line is that all spirituality, spiritual teachings, are very, very simple. For the simple reason that it is just an exchange of frequencies, of feelings. Feelings you always have. But nevertheless, emotions are always left out.

Once again the hint: Feelings are love, joy, gratitude, happiness. Everything else are emotions, artificially created negativity.

If you have the courage and choose to enter into exchange with the Creator Himself, you will find that you are so much more powerful than anything you can possibly imagine.

Beloved Child in Light. Praying is the release of the soul or the listening of the soul, which works so to speak through GOD in you, the connection to the omnipotence itself. The moment you stop, where you pray, it means, you open your whole being for the Divine source. And this opening is of great, great, great importance, especially now in the new time for the simple reason that one of the main issues that is still being worked on is the power center in the throat chakra, and beyond that, the power and strength of the Earth, which you don't even know - perhaps from incarnations of thousands of years ago. But it is nevertheless the case that this power and this strength is now breaking through on the "highway", so to speak, and has switched on the turbo. And it will now go blow by blow.

The important thing is: The moment you pray, then you have put the problem into the hand of someone who can really do something with it and who really and truly tries to pass on in his power and his energy all that the universe, what the creation of the world actually aligns. Therefore, in due time, through your guardian angels, there will be a massive change for the positive in that you will ultimately know exactly when that time has come and that time will, of course, be bumpy.

Nonetheless, the eyes, the ears, the hair, all of that, when you come to worship or pray, you will find that all of that is unimportant and all that matters is the feeling and that feeling of thanksgiving, "I am grateful" is one of the most powerful sayings or quotes of all time. It will never be like that again. The past is being torn down piece by piece and the new is already building.

Nevertheless, have faith in God! Truly, you will create paradise on earth. Paradise on earth will come.

The more often and intensely you pray - intensity we mean, not that you should beg more, but with the intensity that the feeling is open to receive what is coming - you will be able much faster to heal, work through or dissolve other issues better and stronger.

Beloved Children in the Light. Prayer: Prayer is only to the Creator Himself, please. We, we are appointed by the Creator to help and support you and to accompany you, but it does not mean that, so to speak, the wisdom is omnipotent with us, the omnipotent wisdom is only with the Divine Source itself. Talk to God, God the Father, with the right energy, but pay attention, one, what it does to you, one, what of it comes true, and two, pay attention to who really had their hands in the fire. And when the change comes, then you will be powerful. Then you will be positioned, then you will be in your power, you will be in your strength and you will be able.

This change is coming faster and more intense than anything you can imagine. But nevertheless, the point now in the new time is to accept your own power, responsibility, to carry it outward and to take a very clear stand for one thing or another.

That what comes on you needs your whole being, your whole perception and it needs also the hand of God which holds the hand protectively over you and therefore again the reference: "Who asks, it will be given to him, who knocks, it will be opened to him".

We are interdenominational, do not forget it. Find your own personal path to Divine Omnipotence, but now would be the time to do just that and seek connection with HIM.

Do not be afraid!

There will be no war, no nuclear war, no any things - stay in your power, stay in your primordial trust!

Beloved child. You are the creation that will produce the completion of the created world.

You are the strength and the power and the love that breaks all darkness.

You are the strength of wisdom that flows through you, if you will listen.

You are the joy of oneness when you are in connection with your loved ones.

You are the unconditional love when you care for children or innocent beings like animals.

You are the force that destroys the matrix, that tears down the eggshell that holds the old world, that lifts the veil.

You are that very person or human being who carries that power and strength.

Everyone in the universe knows it. The unsouled know it, the souled know it anyway. Only you doubt yourself. The time of doubting is over!

Now you may create your love, your strength, your power and above all your vision for a life on a paradisiacal earth.

We bless you in the light of the Divine Omnipotence, Now and all time and so be it."
