

Transliteration of the Channeling "Ley-Lines" of Archangel Chamuel by Heike Lieselotte Schneider on April 28, 2023

"Be blessed, you beloved children of light. We are the energy you call Chamuel.

Beloved children in the light. First of all, we would like to talk a little bit about the current events, or rather about the transformation processes in which you find yourselves.

Beloved Children. As we have mentioned time and time again it is the case that wake-up calls are going out, so to speak the entire spiritual plane or at the instruction of Divine Source wake-up calls are being brought into your system in the form of energetic currents. We spoke in one of the last channellings about the light language being brought more and more into your system. This means that these wake-up calls are taking on stronger and stronger effects, proportions, and the inner energy that wants to move forward, the soul energy, is becoming more and more awake and cleaning up, in the truest sense of the word.

At present, a great many people have problems of a psychological nature. Irrational fears, worries, hardships from the way the world is at the moment, but also often still self-made ones. The thinker comes less and less to rest, because one always looks for the next Hiobs message. But nevertheless it is important, especially in this special time, to cultivate inner contemplation. Be it with deep breathing, be it to feel into the body in order to fill it up energetically, be it to visit the forest, be it to connect, to seek the contact and the exchange with us angels, whatever helps you.

The point is that ultimately because of the awakening or the greater energy structure, the greater permeability, that the soul enters more into communication, into dominance, simply because the vibrational frequency is there now, that ultimately you will be led through your old issues again and again and again. Even if you think you've been through it several times, you've resolved it several times, it means that maybe there's still a little grain, so to speak, or a little stone still in the shoe that hasn't quite been worked through. It means that you may look at it all again.

If you don't go into evaluating and judging, but remain purely in the observational role, the old issues will bounce off you, they will be shelved once and for all. It is no longer needed to go into change, so to speak.

However, you will go from "sky high to deathly sad" through all emotional structures. This is also because at one time the energies are extremely high, then extremely flatten out, at one time the darkness gets its foot in the door a bit, you listen to too much news in any form, you lose yourself a bit in the day-to-day business because you find you have to do so much.

Beloved children. Everything that is currently in process will be transformed sooner or later. All the old issues will be dissolved. It is the time when the soul becomes stronger. It is the time when the soul wants to make itself heard. It is the time when the soul enters the house, so to speak, and redecorates it, literally. Therefore, don't be surprised if you have problems with your walking apparatus because you don't want to move forward far enough, or problems with your shoulders because you think you have to carry so much responsibility, or even anger, the injustice that you can't or don't want to see anymore. But always remember: evil can only be evil. Evil will never start saying, "We're going to try to do good for once." Evil can only do evil. And evil knows that it has lost. Darkness knows it has no chance against light, but it fights. With every fight and with every person that the darkness can still trigger a little bit, some more food is produced for the darkness - and another day is saved, so that the darkness can remain existent. This does not mean that the darkness will stop completely overnight, on the contrary, it is a process and this process is different for each person depending on the energy structures.

Beloved children in the light. We would like to speak to you today on the subject of "ley lines". There are many interesting theories in dealing with what "ley lines" actually are. Beloved children. The earth is a living organism with a consciousness. To explain exactly how the consciousness of the Earth works is not really possible at this time for the simple reason that this is part of the Divine Dichotomy (that two events can exist simultaneously and can only be perceived because of the perspective) and in the third dimension this definitely cannot be perceived yet, it cannot be understood.

This is not a reproach or an insult, but only the hint that the limitations, which are currently still active on earth, are still active to such an extent that certain levels simply cannot yet be sensed, felt, experienced. But this is changing.

You notice how the earth stirs again and again, how it shakes itself again and again, shakes itself so to speak, in order to free itself from these old burdens. It's a ping-pong game or something like a tug-of-war. Today it is a little more free, tomorrow it is a little less free, because all the souls that are incarnated here, of course, that also live on it, and thereby give their energy into the earth.

On this occasion we would like to point out again that grounding does not begin in the feet, but in the heart! What you understand by "grounding" is the connection, conscious walking over the earth itself, in devotion, to establish the connection between heaven and earth itself. You as mediators. And in the end, completely accepting, taking in both the feminine and the masculine. This is also part of the Divine Dichotomy. It means that you are/will be naturally ionized when you walk barefoot on the earth, for example, but it does not mean that you should root yourself in the earth. It is never useful to root yourself in another being. You are rooted through your Higher Self with your soul. You are rooted in your soul because that is the connection to your origin. That is the rooting. Therefore: Running, thoughtful running on the planet, on the earth in recognition of the energy, which the earth of course still carried outward even in the worst suffering, in order to keep the earth flourishing and also to stabilize you, although at times there was almost no power. That is unconditional love. And if you would send this unconditional love towards the earth, you would help a lot. We know, it is difficult in the daily business to always implement this, but nevertheless: It is just as difficult to think negatively as to think positively, maybe it should be tried with positively.

Beloved children. But we would like to go into the ley line, why we keep pointing out that it's not very useful to travel so much, right now. When we talk about the earth as a living organism, it is indeed living and it is also an organism. If the earth has blood like an organism, but we'll get into that at another time, what the blood of the earth actually is - the ley lines are the meridians, the energy structures that run through the earth, so to speak, like the meridians run through your body.

It is the ability to direct energy to any point. And the ley lines are considered sacred by many spiritual teachers, or called "The Sacred Lines", which they actually are. The bottom line - a consciousness that has agreed to provide for so many people through food, through water, through being pure, is of course of great importance and is also a testimony of exceeding love. Therefore, of course, it makes sense to respect these ley lines. Now, however, the fact is that these ley lines represent the meridians, the energy flow of the earth. They are about every 50 kilometers, but they are not only straight, they are also bent, they are also changed and above all they are very, very much corrupted by the darkness. The darkness has often put nuclear power plants at some energy junctions, for example. Now the question that you may answer for yourselves, because it is also not yet the time for it, is why are the nuclear power plants placed at certain earth nodes or at certain ley line nodes? What energy is really being used there?

Beloved children, before we start philosophizing too far, we would like to point out to you that every time you cross the ley lines, you are immersed in new streams of energy. The body and the organism is calibrated to some extent where you live. You have the connection there, also to the earth, you have the ley lines surrounding you there and every time you cross a ley line you are diving into another level, into another consciousness, into the energy of the collective consciousness of another city, another place, another village. And this means that this is also very complex for you, very exhausting, and sometimes it can lead to physical, massive physical problems. Furthermore, we point out that in this nevertheless very exciting time, where the darkness is partly free-floating, it is perhaps not the most sensible way to undertake extremely many journeys. That does not mean that you cannot make one or the other, but also always keeping in mind that the change is breaking through more and more every day, the truth is coming more and more to light, many people are extremely angry and many people are brought into the country who have a task, and those who have the task actually of division and violence. This does not mean that everything is lumped together here, it just means that a certain vigilance is necessary because, as you know, there is a plan behind everything. We are not talking about the luminous plan but the one that the darkness has devised for you.

Now is the time to go more and more strongly and intensely into one's own sovereignty, into one's own power, into one's own strength, to accept that every soul is as it was made by God - created by the Creator. And endowed with the greatest gift of free will. It means nothing else than to be allowed to use this free will. As said, it is given by God and no human being can take it away from you. This sounds beautiful, but only when you feel it, when you really feel it in every cell of your body that the Creator has endowed you with a gift that you are allowed to live, only when you perceive your own greatness without going into hubris, will you realize that this power and this strength from within you is so immeasurable and so strong that no one would really mess with you.

The ley lines, when you cross them - this can happen unintentionally - which usually happens to a great turmoil in the body and mind structures for the simple reason that these Sacred Lines, when crossed, are of great energy that still resonates even in the most unconscious. Even if it is only through nausea or stomach/intestinal problems.

Beloved Children. These ley lines have been partially corrupted, they have been partially knocked down. There are partial exhibits of darkness placed on them to keep the earth from going into its proper power and, of course, to keep the living beings that live on the earth from going into their proper power.

The ley lines are partly damaged by the massive mining, the losses or the nonsensical mining of some things, which are not necessary in the end, which have changed the earth or the skin of the earth very much and thereby the meridians - because here also the self-healing is active - has found other ways.

The ancient peoples, before the darkness took over, knew exactly about these energy fields and the ley lines, which sometimes can be only 10 meters wide, sometimes are whole fields, because two have merged and can quietly also have 10 kilometers in width, means nothing other than that the darkness has tried to harvest this power because of the pain that the darkness inflicts on the earth, to grab, to reverse, to make ugly out of beautiful. That is the only art that darkness has mastered. To make hate out of love, or anger, or fear, and to make ugly out of beautiful. The "satanic reversal" in its full bloom.

But humanity is becoming more and more awake. Not least because of the energy structures, the wake-up calls that are addressed to you or to your cells, so that you go more and more into your power, into your strength. As before, we point out, just especially from what was said before, that it is not useful to make too many trips. It makes sense also because of the many people who are sick, who are on the road, not to necessarily seek this danger. Nevertheless, the fact is that if you listen to your soul, you will never be in a place that is dangerous for you. But since so many are unaware, we would like to point this out again.

How can you use the ley lines or how can you help the ley lines? By putting energy into it - love. Love is the highest vibration of the universe and love is the energy that has the greatest healing power. The greatest healing power because the channel of healing is controlled through love.

Beloved children in the light. This energy, this healing process that is currently underway in the earth, on the earth, means a very great reversal, a great change that is revealing itself bit by bit and not suddenly and unexpectedly, but bit by bit more and more.

As we said last time, at the moment the gentlest way has been chosen by you, without too much reprisals, but of course the unpleasant pressure must continue to increase. The government will continue to make insane decisions due to the fact that it wants to abolish itself, so to speak. Not everyone is aware of this, but in the end this is exactly what the plan envisages - the plan of darkness.

In addition, we would like to point out that the Earth needs a lot of power for itself at the moment in order to move forward with healing. We mentioned earlier that due to weakness, many Lightworkers can no longer work at full capacity to help, to ultimately liberate the Earth, as there is still between four and seven percent missing, depending on the day, so to speak, or the condition of the people. But there will come a moment when the earth will ultimately liberate itself. And that moment should be as gentle as possible, because otherwise the earth can really go off the rails for a few days.

We do not say this to frighten you, but on the contrary, so that you know: be prepared for all eventualities, be ready for the adventure of life that you have chosen: this time - here and now.

Beloved children in the light. We would like to point out once again that all these processes go on bit by bit. It can be that one place is a little faster, the other place a little slower, and this changes again in different areas.

It can also be that people are extremely awakened in one area and are still fast asleep in another area, according to the motto, "But we definitely don't believe that now. Now we've already gotten used to the idea that maybe this conspiracy theory was a conspiracy after all and not just a theory, but this is too much now."

Beloved children. The winner always writes the story. Now consider, what is true and what is not true? Feel what is true and what is not true. Do not get lost in it. Don't use it to awaken more fear and terror in yourselves. Don't use it to send even more anger into the world, but use it to accept that everything may be considered again or better said, may be felt again. It makes sense, in general for the further processes for the next months, because the energy waves will subside again and again maybe for one or two days, but they will be built up continuously, the level will rise and rise and rise again and again from March on. It is the time when God intervenes. The time where certain things have been released, which perhaps were not yet completely free before, where the creator has made the decision to now just accelerate the process a little bit, in the gentle way, but nevertheless. The alternation of your feelings is so extensive because of that. However, more and more intense abilities are appearing in people, because they are awakening due to the wake-up call. If you imagine now: You are walking through a forest and you suddenly feel a certain tingling, a different energy than it was there before, then you can be sure that you are at a ley line. Usually for many people it is a little dizzy at first, but with time comes a feeling of happiness, a being carried, a feeling of love. And what would stop you from pausing for a moment, leaning down and giving, putting your hands on that line a little bit and just letting love, gratitude flow.

For this you don't have to kneel or you don't have to squat, you can do it in the air, because of course the ley lines also go on and are not only finished with the planet, but have a great radiation. And if you are completely still and completely in awareness, you will be able to perceive the pulse of life itself.

Beloved children. There are still so many surprises, so many beautiful, positive surprises waiting for you, so many discoveries. You are like little children who are madly looking forward to Christmas, perhaps already rustling a little at the individual gifts, but in the back of your minds you are constantly telling yourselves that you are not good enough to reach, to receive all these gifts.

Beloved children in the light. You have been good enough. Just by being ensouled, it is part of your path to have this very experience, in the here and now. Pay attention to these energy structures. Pay attention to them when you are driving in the car, when you feel it feels a little different now. Be sure to cross those lines respectfully and always with a blessing, with a good wish, with some love directed into the earth. And make sure that when you have traveled longer distances, that you give yourself breaks, that you relax, that you actually come into your power, into the processing of what you have experienced. As said, the ley lines had always been there. They were just very, very, very limited. And by you now being able to perceive more and the earth being able to allow energy to flow through it more freely again, a whole new component comes in.

This process will definitely continue this year. It will be an up and down, you will feel the worst is happening, you will find it is not happening after all and then something does happen, financial things will also change, there will be shaking here and shaking there. The darkness is really trying to throw everything it can into the ring, but stay sovereign. Only what your soul allows to happen can happen in your life. And the soul, when it is in supremacy, has the right to say "No!". The mind and the thinker does not have the authority, not the energy behind it, to say "No!" to another in such a way that it actually arrives at the other, at the opposite entity and is perceived and behaves accordingly. Only the soul in its uniqueness can do that.

Beloved child. You have come this far. You have experienced so many upsets, you have experienced so many injustices, you have experienced so much pain and so much suffering. We are not saying that it is over for you to suffer now, we are just saying that you can choose to let the suffering thinker become smaller and the power and strength of your soul, which is always full of adventure and full of love. And when this happens, when you bring your soul into dominance, you will find that things will happen to you in a positive way that you could never have imagined. The moment will come when, so to speak, many people will remain in the other dimension - many also say "in the other timeline" - but in the third dimension (we name it as "dimension" in order to establish the certain demarcation without the temporal frame, but generally to name the spatial frame also a little bit) and the others will go to the fourth dimension. So to speak, a remnant of the old world will remain existing in the third dimension, which is not very beautiful. But only the sovereign people, the people who are aware of their power, their strength and their Divine origin, will decide to really go ahead, into the fourth dimension. And this means, of course, to listen within. To feel into yourself and make contact with your soul completely.

Use the ley lines. Not by simply taking energy without giving anything back but in such a way that you are in exchange. Give and take in balance. And you will find that the more healing work you do in this area, because now the earth is ready to accept this, the more and the faster it will work.

Certain things are simply worked off. But God intervenes much faster and more frequently in the background without you being aware of it. But you do not believe that otherwise so many crimes would come to the daylight, if not some higher power, namely the creator himself, would intervene.

Beloved children. We promise you the most beautiful happy ending. If you are ready to manifest it as you really want to live it in honor, love, decency. This power and this creative power were given to you in the Divine Spark. The power to create. And it is essential to know what you are creating. Not to let the thoughts flow uncontrollably in the hope that there is something beautiful that you want to create, but to make very conscious decisions and to animate this thought with a feeling, because the feelings are the language of the soul.

Beloved child. Know that Your guides and we are always by your side. That we never leave You, that we are always just a blink away from You. To protect the soul is our highest good. This is our task and it is very important to see as the plan of the Creator, the Omnipotence, to work to protect the souls.

Beloved Child, Your power and strength are so immeasurable. Your wisdom so much greater, which You have already acquired over hundreds of lifetimes. Your power that is able to lift cars in emergencies, that strength and that power to make the impossible come true, that strength is within You. That force is within you.

Beloved child. Don't use it for rituals, use it for ceremonies. The difference between rituals and ceremonies is this: in the "ceremony" you prepare yourself. One is prepared inwardly and outwardly to go into a higher energy. A "ritual" says one does not need to change anything in oneself and can try to undermine the Divine Order in such a way that one gets to the desired goal. It is not real. And it is carried by the darkness. Use the ceremonies for which you are preparing. To welcome spring, to welcome love, to heal the world, to manifest the new, to create paradise. But free yourselves from wanting to achieve something - without an inner change, through manipulation, which is forbidden on all levels, because it is against the Divine Laws. Give up the rituals. Use the ceremonies to keep your energies pure and clear. We will go into more detail on this subject in the next announcement, what can go wrong with the supposed shortcuts to keep you in awareness and keep you in your power.

Beloved Child. Know that the world exists for You. It was created for you to experience and live out. That is how important you are to the Creator. The world was created for you to be able to perceive yourself in your entirety, to experience your true greatness and to further expand your compassion. That is how much you are honored. That is how important you are to the Creator.

If you keep the compassion within you, do not raise yourself above others but also do not make yourself smaller in front of others, you will find that the Creator has given you everything you need to recreate the new world, the paradise, full of peace and love.

We look forward to being with you every day.

Invite us into your life as often as you can and know that we are here to help you.
That is how much the Creator loves you.

We bless you in the light of Divine Omnipotence, now and always, and so be it!"

(Archangel Chamuel)
